Bay adopts new sign ordinance

BY MARY G. SEILEY

Bay St. Louis City Council adopted a comprehensive sign ordinance Tuesday, and signed on with Jackson consultants for comprehensive planning services.

Council also dealt with issues ranging from gun control and scam operations in the city to taxi cab regulations and limiting noise levels by ordinance.

Action on the sign ordinance came with little discussion -city officials have been working on the document for months. The 18-page final document is comprehensive in scope, addressing the size, location and appearance of almost every conceivable sign in commercial and residential areas. It becomes effective in 30 days.

In other action, council gave final approval to a contract with Continental Consulting, Inc., to help draft the city's comprehensive development plan. Only the initial phase of study, costing $12,300, is covered in the contract council approved Tuesday.

Assuming city officials are happy with that work, a separate contract will cover the rest services, and would rather see of the study. In all, the cost is projected at some $29,000 -less deductions for any work member Tad Black voted city officials contribute.

Council President James Thriffiley abstained from voting on the contract, while the four other councilmen voted in favor of it. Thriffiley said after the meeting he didn't feel he had sufficient information to vote for or against the Continental contract.

In other action, council agreed to a $1,500-per month contract with F.A.S.T. Inc. of Bay St. Louis for building inspection services, F.A.S.T. is owned by one of the city's three part-time building inspectors, Bill Carrigee, and his son, city officials said.

In addition to the professional services contract, the city will continue with the services of its two other part-time inspectors. Thriffiley said one of the two wants to phase out of his position.

Council member Charles Scianna said he was not comfortable with the concept of contracting for building inspection city staff members perform those functions. He and council against the contract.

In another matter, council members expressed concern over recent door-to-door solicitations within the city, and a mailing that was sent to area property owners from an out-ofstate person who stated he and his wife are looking to buy a home in Bay St. Louis. Mayor Eddie Favre said local residents responding to that mailing have been asked for $300 in exchange for the name of a buyer of their homes.

Meanwhile, Police Chief Frank McNeil said several break-ins have occurred in the city following some door-to-door sales inquiries. He said while there is no direct link between the break-ins and the sales solicitations, the city needs to institute some controls on the solicitations.

Council member James Rutherford said some of his constituents have been "terrified".

Jail closing to youths

BY MARY G. SEILEY

Hancock County's juvenile offenders may be walking the streets after March 1, the Board of Supervisors was stunned to learn Wednesday. Youth Court Judge Ann Williamson said she won't be able to sentence youthful offenders to serve time in the county jail after that date, under federal mandates to separate youths. from adults in jails by March 1.

Hearing that news, supervisors quickly came up with minutes from an August 1993 meeting in which they awarded a $14,950 contract for renovations to the jail to provide a

A new wall and doorway which is covered by that contract, Sheriff Ronnie Peterson said, has never been constructed.

Even if it's built, he added, it may not satisfy federal requirements for separating the youths from adults at the jail. Federal authorities want clearly sepa-rate jails for youths and adults, Peterson said.

County officials- had no immediate explanation for why the project didn't get to the construction stage. The contract. said Board President Michael Ladner, was awarded to the Samuel Day Construction Comcomplete. Work was to start within 10 days after a contract was signed with the county.

While Peterson promised to check on the six-month delay, Williamson said she's still left hanging with no place to send juvenile offenders. She said she and the sheriff could be held personally liable in litigation if the March 1 separation dead-line is violated.

Williamson said she wanted the board to be prepared for the public complaints it will receive when youthful offenders are not put in jail facilities. She said she may be able to sentence some youths to home confinement. with ankiet equipment to ensure their whereabouts, as an

In other action, county officials said they have been deluged with telephone calls about the advent of new waste collection services effective April 1 in the county. It is unclear whether the county or the new garbage hauler, Bou-din's Waste and Recycling, will be responsible for collecting the $4 to $5 monthly fee for collection. The Hancock County Solid Waste Management District recently awarded Boudin a $420,000 annual contract, and a separate contract with Waste Management to dispose of the waste Boudin collects in the county, Waveland and Bay St.

Stewart addresses T&G on Harrison task force

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

"When you think about planguess there is one word, along with the Harrison County change," Rick Stewart told Council of Governments. the Hancock ty Gaming & Tourism Association at their February meeting. Stewart, South Central Bell district manager, was representing the Harrison County Strategic Planning Task Force, in his address to T&G.

The word 'unity' was frening, you really think of the quently mentioned by Stewart seed that drives planning, and I in the task force's activities,

> Jim Henrie the T&G, said he would like to see both Hancock and Jackson counties included in the Harrison County task force.

> Said Henrie, "The task force should be commended for what they are doing. I would encourage the task force to invite Hancock and Jackson counties to be full partners as timing could be very crucial."

According to Stewart, "Each ear my company makes projections on the number of new telephone lines, and last year we surpassed our forecast along the coastal area in about the first six months,

"A lot of questions have been raised too, such as how do we handle the transportation and the new students coming to the area," Stewart said.

"How do we handle the demands we have on all of this additional growth with the beautiful environment we have been blessed with, and how do we balance that growth? All of those are long-term planning questions," Stewart said.

"There are no short-term solutions; there is not enough money to fix it that quickly. The market forces will handle only so much, so an area like this that is growing so rapidly, we have got to come together.

We've got to find ways to T&G—Page 5A

Accidental shooting leaves man in critical condition

BY AMY PICKICH

An Orange Grove man is in critical condition after an apparent accidental shooting in Hancock County just after 10 p.m.

According to Hancock County Sheriff's Deputy Nathan Hoda, the results of a preliminary investigation show Timothy Price, 18, accidentally self-inflicted a gunshot wound to the right side of his head. Hoda said at the time of the incident he was traveling toward Bayou Caddy on South Beach Boulevard just past Lakeshore Hoda said according to Price's fiance, a juvenile who was traveling with him, Price thought he had unloaded the gun. She told officials the gun discharged in an upward position while he was playing with it, striking him in the head.

The car the two were traveling in then yeered off the road into a ditch Hoda said. A passerby called the police. Price was taken to Hancock Medical Center and later transferred to Memorial Hospital at Gulfport, where he listed in critical condition. The accident is still under investigation, according to Hoda.

Diamondhead medical clinic opens

BY MARY G. SEILEY Hancock Medical Center's new clinic in Diamondhead opened Monday.

Dr. David Roberts, a family practicioner, has leased the center's new facility on Gex Drive to operate his private practice. Roberts, a native of Mississippi, completed his three-year residency at the University of Tennessee and had a private practice in Clinton, Tenn., for more than three years before Roberts was recruited in a moving to Diamondhead. He is on the staff of Hancock Medical Center in addition to operating his private practice. The new center has over 3,000 square feet of space, with laboratory and diagnostic facilities. It is open Mondays through Fridays, on an appointment basis. Hancock Medical Center director Don Henderson said nationwide search for a family practice physician to locate in Diamondhead.

"The board of Trustees really felt it's important to encourage a physician to locate in that area," Henderson said, noting that the Diamondhead community is the fastest-growing area of Hancock County.

While other doctors have located in Diamondhead in recent years, he said, their practices in Bay St. Louis and Waveland have been so successful they have left Diamondhead.

Roberts' brand new Diamondhead practice, he said, has been "phenominally successful" in the short time since he located in the new facility.

Henderson said a 10 a.m. open house has been scheduled for March 19th at the new clin-

Rocks lose district final; bow in state playoffs

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II The St. Stanislaus basketball team lost to an overpowering St.Martin Yellow Jacket team on Friday by the score of 70-39 in the championship game of Division 8 Class 4A. The Rocks just couldn't seem to get on track tonight as the Yellow Jackets dominated every aspect of the game.

The Rocks managed to score only 10 points in both the first and second period. The score at the intermission was 35-20. St. Martin continued its domination in the second half by allowing only 7 points in the third period and outscoring the Rocks 35-19 for the second half.

Terry Lawyer and Vince Moran led the Rock attack with 11 points each while Nathan Middleton added 7 points.

Coach Jay Ladner commented, "We just couldn't get on track tonight. St. Martin is a very tough team and they showed it tonight. What we have to do now is get our minds set on Lawrence County in the state tournament. The Rocks end the regular season at 20-13.

On Tuesday the Rocks traveled to Lawrence County to participate in the state playoffs for the first time since 1990. The Rocks met up with a talented and physical team in Lawrence County. They proved it by routing the Rocks by the score of Lawrence County jumped out to a 17-6 first period lead and never looked back. The score at the break was 35-17. The Rocks scored more points in the second half but it was to no avail. Lawrence County outpaced the Rocks 52-30 in the second half.

Vince Moran led the Rocks with 10 points while Terry Lawyer added 8 points. Brandon Benoit chipped in 7 points.

Coach Jay Ladner stated,
"We just didn't show up to play. Lawrence County is a very physical team and has some big boys and they used that to their advantage tonight."

Lawrence County will advance in the state tournament and the season has come to a close for the Rocks. SSC enjoyed much success this year, more than some would have predicted. The Rocks ended their season with a 20-14 record.

Little Theater goers may want to visit the Bay St. ouis Little Theater's performance of 'Claptrap' this or next weekend.

Co-directors of 'Claptrap' are Kathleen Fischer and Brierley Acker, and curtain time is 8:15 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Admission is $7.50 per person at the door. The Little Theater Playhouse is located on Boardman Avenue in the Cedar Point area of Bay St. Louis.

Repeat performances will be March 4 and 5. The cast includes, Jack Schornick, Carl Danna, Melissa Terrell and Bonnie Beyer. Becky Rotundo is in charge of set design and construction, Catherine Woody and Sally Rodrique are handling properties and sharing the stage manager's job.

Molly and Louis LeBourgeois, respectively, are responsible for makeup and for lights and sound. Dick Ehrbright designed the poster and program cover. Sounds like the comedy is going to be a hit and should be well attended. The Bay St. Louis Little Theater needs the support of the entire community, and one way to do that is through memberships and attending the productions.

I hope to see you at the Little Theater.

Spring is coming, and so is Hancock County's annual cleanup.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Beautification Committee at its last meeting designated the month of March as Spring Cleanup Month.

One of the reasons is, as many of you know, the annual Mississippi Gulf Coast Garden Club's annual Pilgrimage during the second half of March.

Darlene Underwood is chairman of the cleanup and Betsy Ashman serves as vice-chairman.

All who have adopted a road, street or highway are urged to make all efforts in doing a cleanup in the first part of March.

The beautification committee would like to see the entire county bright and clean by March 19, the last big push day.

Since I am chairman of the chamber's beautification committee, I am happy to say we have a record number of people involved in the committee, and this is very

To all of the newcomers to the committee I want to express my appreciation for volunteering your services.

For sure, I want to express my personal thanks to those who have been with us and will continue to serve on our many committees.

At this time I do not want to mention any names because I may miss a few.

We will have several flower beds along the median of U.S. 90 courtesy of the Cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

The beautification committee has been working very close with the two cities on this project.

Those interested in adopting a road, street, or highway in the Bay-Waveland area, can call Naomi Martin, 467-2537; Diamondhead, Bob Valigosky, 255-7198; Hancock County, Linne Swilley at 255-6246 or 1-800-367-2271.

We still have a number of streets and roads to be adopted and appreciate any help we can get.

For further information on the March cleanup, call Darlene Underwood at 467-5456, or the chamber office at 467-9048.

Don't stop progress on the Coast

To the Editor:

Stop the world, I wanna get off. No more babies. No more population growth. No more need to find food to eat. This seems to be the agenda of the do-gooders trying to stop progress on the Coast.

At first their rallying cry was crime will increase and families will be shattered. Guess what? Sheriff Peterson publicly stated that crime is way down one year after gaming came to Hancock Family court has fewer cases of family violence, and increasingly child support payments are being made on time. Even though the schools are being inundated with new students, they are receiving enough tax money to purchase new material and to begin capital construction programs.

Just this past week the state reported over $80 million of tax revenue has been generated in about a year by casinos.

Casinos have helped every community in which they have located. Other than the Coast, the biggest example is Tunica, Miss. This area was visited by both presidential candidates in 1992 as the worst example of poverty in the U.S. Now it is booming. The families have food for their tables. The children have clothes on their backs. Everyone now has a future to look forward to. Why is this miles of beaches in Hancock County, yet the do-gooders want to stop a casino located where there are no beaches, virtually no residents, poor fishing, falling-down seawalls, broken glass and rusted cans in and out of the water.

They passionately claim that they just want to sit on the "pristine" seawall and watch the sun set over the water. To demonstrate their real intentions, you should know that if you sit on the seawall the sun sets behind your back over Another casino located in this area will not only put more people to work, it will clean up the area, repair the seawall, help to beautify the area and improve the fishing by providing cover for the fish.

Will there be a change in the ambience of the area? Yes. Will some people benefit financially from all of this? Yes.

No matter how much you might want to, you cannot stop the world. As long as people have children, population increases, and there is a need for food and clothing, and jobs will be required which provide financial benefits.

Casinos have demonstrated they provide jobs. The Lakeshore location is away from large residential populations and is an ideal location. Please don't stop the world, most of us don't want to get off. Jim Maness

EYES ON MISSISSIPP

By Bill Minor

The 'tough steak' bill considered by Legislators tors. They're trying to pass what I call the "tough steak"

If the lobbyist reform bill passed by each of the two Mississippi legislative branches becomes law, when a lawmaker goes to dinner with a lobbyist, the most he's going to be able to order is a $10 steak.

No prime cuts anymore. Chateau Briand is out. We're talking about cheap steaks now. Gee, how old-timers around the Legislature are going to miss the good old days when nobody paid any attention to how much a lobbyist spent.

Back then when a lawmaker introduced a "red meat" bill, it was understood that some lobbyist for the particular industry or business affected by the bill was going to pick up the tab for thick steaks and a bit of booze.

Then, of course, the people of Mississippi never knew, or could find out, who was entertaining their representatives in the state lawmaking body and what kind of laws were being written as a result.

Now, more inquiring minds are demanding to know more about the influences around the Legislature from the "third House," namely, the herd of lob-byists who ply the corridors of the Capitol, and the halls of state government.

Lobbying is big business, even in a small state such as Mississippi. Existing lobbying laws, though wholly inadequate, reveal better than $5 million was invested by interest groups and companies last year to lobby state lawmakers.

At last, enough members of the Legislature are committed to realistic lobby law reform, which Secretary of State Dick Molpus has been pushing for the past several years, that the current session has moved the issue to a higher priority than ever before, and some reform on seems virtually certain to

As legislative jargon puts it, lobbyist reform is one monkey that most lawmakers are ready to get off their back. Each branch has passed its own reform bill, not awfully different from each other. Now it's down to both Houses getting together on a single bill.

Both versions do away with the old $25 threshold which lobbyists can spend per occasion on Pity the poor state legisla- a lawmaker without having to report the name of the lawmaker being entertained. Ridicul-ously, there must a whole lot of $24.99 dinner checks being paid in Jackson restaurants during legislative sessions because they don't show up on most lobbyist reports.

There was considerable support in both houses to put the threshold down to zero for reporting lobbyists' expenditures. What finally emerged out of each branch was a bill allowing lobbyists to spend $10 on a lawmaker without having to itemize the amount.

That's not 10 bucks per occasion, it's 10 bucks total for the year, per legislator, a lobbyist may spend without itemizing.

Why there's such a phobia about itemizing and naming lawmakers who lobbyists entertain is still one of the hold-overs from the old days when the appearance of the name of a legislator in a lobbyist's report was considered anathema. Maybe Mississippi by each house go beyond just legislators. They also speak to lobbying all public officials, executive and legislative.

Each bill also, for the first time, includes both civil and criminal penalities for lobbyists or the clients who violate the law. Each defines a lobbyist as a person, or group or company, who spends $200 per year or more on public officials, influencing governmental decisions.

It doesn't mean the local businessman from Magee or Pelathatchie or wherever who comes to Jackson one time in a session and takes his hometown lawmakers out to dinner. Nordoes it include a person who comes to Jackson give formal testimony before a committee. If Mississippi gets lobbyist reform this time, it will happen in the next week when a bill must come out of either the riouse or Senate committee cor sidering the other house's bill. Unfortunatley, neither the House Judiciary Chairman, Rep. Mike Mills of Aberdeen, nor Sen. Hainon Miller of Greenville, is a strong supporter. Apparently the real decision making is going to come in the ioint House-Senate Conference Committee. This would be the perfect time for the conference committee to be open to the

In another matter, county library officials said they want. to take steps toward providing a 5,000-square foot branch facility in the Kiln area, effectively doubling the existing facility. A site, and funding for the project have not been secured, Library director Prima Plauche said $200,000 grants may be available, on a 50 percent match basis, to build and equip the new facility.

While supervisors agreed that the growing northern part of the county needs upgraded library facilities, Plauche's suggestion of an additional millage to pay for it was not well

"I can tell you millage is not going to fly," said Chancery Clerk Michael Necaise.

Supervisor Howard Lizana said the library should consider selling its existing branch in the Kiln, to help finance a new one.

In another matter, the board endorsed hiring Duke Levy as engineer for the sewer expansion project in Shoreline Park, as recommended by a selection committee. Levy was one of six engineers submitting proposals on the Sewer District 1 project, the board was told.

Board members learned that plans for improving Texas Flat Road have been canceled. The road was to have been improved as a route to the now-defunct ASRM facility at Stennis.

Co-directors Kathleen Fischer and Brierley Acker will introduce one novice actress and three newcomers to the Bay St. Louis Little Theater stage in their upcoming production of "Claptrap," a zany spoof of the popular thriller, "Deathtrap." Ken Friedman's comedy will open at 8:15 Friday at the BSLLT Playhouse on Boardman Avenue and will repeat on Saturday and again on March 4 and 5. Tickets are $7.50 at the Like "Deathtrap," the play centers around the struggles of two men. But in Friedman's play, one is a novelist, whose creative juices can't seem to flow past page one, and the other is an actor who can't seem to get past the audition phase of theatrics.

Jack Schornick of Waveland is playing Sam, the writer. Carl Danna of Pass Christian and Saratoga Springs, N.Y., portrays Harvey, the actor. Rounding out the cast are Melissa Coursey of Bay St. Louis as Sam's girlfriend, Sara; Carol Terrell of Pass Christian as Sara's mother, Mrs. Littlefield: and Bonnie Bayer of Pass Christian as Sybil, a book publisher.

East Central downs PRC's state hopes

The Pearl River Wildcats knocked on the door of opportunity but could not get through as the East Central Warriors skimmed by with a 70-67 win to take the South State tropby in the men's division.

The Wildcats, 20-9, led most of the second half but never by enough. East Central, 22-4, down 67-62 after a three-pointer by PRCC's Conley Verdun with 1:58 left, closed with a jumper by Stacy Miller and two free throws by Marcus Mann.

Miller followed with a shot at 1:11 giving the Warriors a 68-67 lead. Mann made a layup at the closing seconds to seal the win.

"Two late turnovers killed us," said Richard Mathis, head coach of the Wildcats. "We had a hard time guarding Mann, who is the best player in the state. But I'm proud of our players. They played very hard and nev-

College Day Williams captured the South State Championship 78-76 over the East Central Lady Warrious and will head north next week to play in the state community college championship.

"It has been a great year, and now we will advance," said Lady Cat coach Polly Kirkland, "I'm so proud of this."

The Lady Cats already captured the south division and the tournament crown.

Down 77-76 East Central drew a foul, putting Carla LeFlore at the free throw line with hopes to tie or take the lead. In a classic move, Kirkland called three consecutive time-outs to "ice" LeFlore before her freethrow attempt. It worked. LeFlore missed the free throw and the Lady Cats regained possession.

Lady Cat Elaine Powell kept the ball to run out the clock, and she was fouled. Powell made a free-throw giving the Lady Cats a 78-76 victory as time expired.

The Lady Cats, 22-4, were led by freshman Elaine Powell with 40 points, followed by Coronica Debose with 13, Karen Powell with 12 and Laveta Willis with

"We have won three times closer each time," Kirkland said after the game. "I'm exhausted, but I'm so pleased. I'm real pleased with the effort. We played hard and hustled. We never stopped."

Smith, Slack reign over 11th annual American Legion Post 77 and Auxiliary ball

American Legion Post 77 and Auxiliary presented their 11th annual Mardi Gras Bal Masque on Saturday, Feb. 12 at the post home on Coleman Avenue, Waveland.

"Music in the Night" was the theme. The stage contained a large silver moon with cascades of stars on a dark background.

The ball opened with the presentation of Post Commander Elden "Dee" Thomas and his wife, Frances; foland his wife, Frances; followed by the presentation of the president of the auxiliary, Mrs. Isabel Crais and her husband, Robert.

Last year's king, Thomas E. Slack, and his queen, Dorothy Bessey, were presented by Lawrence Freeman.

Krewe captains Earline Ruhr and Raymond Norton were introduced to the crowd to the music of "Second Line." Krewe members joined the rousing parade from their tables.

After the lighting of the Crest, captains Edgar Sauls and Lee Ann Sauls were presented to the lovely tune of Sweethearts. Officers for this year's ball were Peggy Holcolm, Robert McClure Jr., June Chimera, Elroy C. Schwebel, Frances Graves and Robert Crais.

Each maid and duke was welcomed into the hall with a tune of their choice from the past.

Charlotte Mauffray and Donald Mauffray chose "What I Did For Love." Elaine Sconza and Anthony "Tony" Sconza, entered to "Fascination

Youth talent sought for Oyster Festival

Organizers of the Boys and Girls Clubs' 17th annual Oyster Festival are seeking talented youths to perform on stage Sunday, "Family Day," at the festival.

The festival will be March 17-20 at Point Cadet Plaza, located in Biloxi off Hwy. 90 at the foot of the Biloxi-Ocean Springs bridge.

Potential performers should provide photos, tapes, and/or written descriptions with references if possible. Participation is voluntary.

Those selected will be assigned a performance time and listed in the festival program and other advertising. Interested parties should contact the club immediately as available time will limit the number of performances.

The festival kicks off on St. Patrick's Day with many spe-cials planned for the Irish at heart. Mitchell Brothers Carnival will be on hand throughout the festival with rides and games and special ride prices on Thursday and Sunday.

Friday night features a Mr. Whiskers contest and a dance contest.

Other popular festival attractions will be the kids fishing rodeo and oyster fest field day, with games and contests for children on Sunday.

Adults can compete in oyster eating and oyster shucking contests, and any-step dance contest and a Texas two-step dance

There will be oyster sack races, oyster spoon races and three-legged races.

The best oyster dish in town will be determined in both commercial and individual categories.

Proceeds from the festival benefit the Boys and Girls Clubs of the Gulf Coast Inc., which provides physical and personal development prog-rams for more than 1,200 Coast youths. Donations and volunteers are always welcome.

For information call 374-2330, or write P. O. Box 688, Biloxi, MS 39533.
